

Austria Seething As Factions "Plug" For Sunday Voting

Street Fights in Vienna Result in 40 Injuries, Many Arrests; Hundreds Parade Through Streets

Garrisons Ready

Plebiscite Preparations Turn Staid Old City Into Scene of Tension

Vienna, March 10 (AP)—Street fights in which at least 40 were injured and many arrested broke out today in Vienna and Graz as Austria's political strife reached a new pitch of bitterness in the campaigning for Sunday's plebiscite.

Nazis, angered by Chancellor Kurt Schuschnigg's sudden call for a vote on his policy of Austrian independence, clashed in both cities with members of the Fatherland Front, the chancellor's party.

In Graz, capital of Styria, the dread words "civil war" passed menacingly from mouth to mouth when grinning Nazis and Fatherland Front members toured the city in trucks armed with clubs, poles and other weapons. Seventeen were injured in Graz street clashes; 12 more were hurt there by clubs of police breaking up demonstrations. Vienna counted at least 11 hurt.

Streets Thronged

At dusk 5,000 shouting, excited men and women thronged Vienna's main arteries, almost stopping traffic. Reinforced police squads were unable to cope with the crowds. Truckload after truckload of police were rushed to the scene.

Hundreds paraded the downtown section, their cries of "Heil Schuschnigg!" or "Heil Hitler!" rising high above the usual roar of traffic.

The entire police force was called out on an emergency basis that will continue through Sunday.

The two main army garrisons at Vienna were held in readiness with orders to troop lorries constantly running.

The old seafaring, friendly, easy-going Vienna had become a tense, worried, shouting, demonstrating city, whose population was gripped by a tension almost unknown here since the World War.

The issue was whether the influence of Schuschnigg or of Chancellor Hitler of Germany should predominate in Austria.

Blood Flows

Blood flowed in Kaerntnerstrasse, the main shopping street, for the first time since Nazis and fatherland front began struggling for the upper hand when front members set upon an ardent Nazi who answered a shout of "Heil Schuschnigg!" with "Heil Hitler!"

The Nazi was pummeled into unconsciousness before police intervened.

The police for the most part confined their efforts to keeping the two factions apart and curbing too demonstrative "Heil Hitler!" cries.

Trucks cruised about the city carrying loud-speakers blaring plebiscite slogans like "With Schuschnigg for a free German Austria," or "Are you for Austrian independence? Yes or no? Yes! Yes! Yes!"

Greatest Secrecy

Informed persons said plans for announcing the referendum were worked out in the greatest secrecy by the Chancellor, Burgomaster Richard Schmitz of Vienna and Guido Zernatto, secretary of state.

The announcement was a bombshell to many foreign diplomats. Franz von Papen, the German ambassador, had advanced word of it while vacationing at Kitzbuehl and hurriedly returned to Vienna to try to dissuade Schuschnigg.

Barbers' Holiday

Vacation Results in Higher Wages for Bridge City Journeymen

While the barbers of Kingston are holding an all-day holiday today, a similar holiday was held in Poughkeepsie on Tuesday and resulted in the Poughkeepsie barbers winning their demands. The Poughkeepsie Eagle News of Wednesday says:

Poughkeepsie journeymen barbers won a guarantee of $15 per week and 65 per cent of receipts above $23 as a result of the city-wide barbers' holiday Tuesday.

In addition, standard prices of 50 cents for a haircut and 25 cents for a shave were established.

According to Charles LaMotte, international representative of the Journeymen Barbers' Union, who directed the organization drive, written agreements were negotiated with all but six shops in the city.

"I think," he said, "we will have all six signed up within a day or so. Every barber in the city cooperated in the holiday, and with the right persuasion, I see no reason why they will not come in with us."

Arguments For and Against Use of By-Pass Are Revealed at Hearing

Samuel M. Watts Leads Groups Seeking Retention of Prohibitive Ordinance on East Chester Street Dealing With Night Trucking—Attorney N. Jansen Fowler Heads Opposition and Petitioners

Arguments for and against the traffic ordinance now in effect on East Chester street were heard Wednesday evening at a heated public hearing, held by the traffic control committee of the Common Council in the council chambers in the city hall, in which personalities were exchanged until Alderman John G. Garon, who presided, ruled they were out of order at the hearing. At one point in the hearing Charles Rabble, who operates a gas station on East Chester street, demanded a public apology from a woman in the audience who greeted one of his remarks with the ejaculation, "You crazy fool." Alderman Garon in closing the hearing said the committee would report later to the council.

Long before the meeting opened the council chamber began to fill and when Alderman Garon rapped for order and opened the meeting, every seat was taken and many were forced to stand along the sidewalks and out in the corridors. It was the largest public hearing ever held in the council chambers and was featured with large delegations from Foxhall avenue and East Chester street as well as residents from Albany avenue.

Alderman Garon said that in order to facilitate matters at the hearing it was decided to allow those who favored the retention of the ordinance which prohibits heavy truck traffic in a northerly direction over East Chester street from 10 o'clock in the evening until 8 o'clock in the morning, to speak first and asked that all those who spoke limit their remarks to five minutes each. He said that those who desired the ordinance rescinded would be given the privilege after those in favor of the ordinance had spoken, and the one speaker from each side would be given 10 minutes to speak in rebuttal.

Samuel M. Watts led the fight to retain the ordinance, while Attorney N. Jansen Fowler led the forces who sought to have it rescinded.

Mr. Watts said he appeared for the group in what you might call a noise zone on East Chester street. He called attention to the fact that he and others in the group had appeared at the public hearing held November 9 of last year and at that time had sought relief from the constant noise of heavy truck traffic over East Chester street. As a result of that hearing the traffic control committee had granted the request of residents of the street and given them relief for 10 hours during the night in adopting the present ordinance.

"When this hearing was held and later when the ordinance was adopted unanimously by the common council," said Mr. Watts, "not a voice was raised in protest." Then after the ordinance went into effect in January opposition began to develop. Mr. Watts said he had investigated and found that the opposition was started by Henry Van Weezmaal, who operates Hank's By-pass diner on East Chester street, who, through his attorney, N. Jansen Fowler, had filed papers with the council that he would seek an injunction order restraining the enforcement of the traffic ordinance.

About the same time, said Mr. Watts, a petition was circulated on East Chester street by Mr. Van Weezmaal and Charles Rabble who operates the gas station. Mr. Watts said that the group who favored the retention of the present ordinance had no fight with anyone on East Chester street.

Mr. Powers speaks

Michael J. Powers of East Chester street, who had spoken in favor of the adoption of the ordinance at the November meeting of the traffic control committee, spoke again last night in favor of the retention of the traffic provision. He said that there was no ill will against anyone doing business on East Chester street, but the group was there solely to protect their homes and properties. He said that the group was not present to ask the committee to give us what they were not entitled to; but were present asking for the continuance of the present ordinance.

One-way Traffic

When the by-pass was first constructed, said Mr. Powers, there was an agreement that it was to be for one-way traffic only, but when the street was finally completed traffic began to operate over it in both directions. "We stood it patiently for two years," said Mr. Powers, "and then we asked the traffic control committee at a public hearing to allow us some relief. Later the council did give us relief for 10 hours during the night and we respectfully ask that the ordinance be continued in force."

Mr. Powers said that the residents of East Chester street had

A Runaway Story

Turning up at Temperanceville, on the eastern Virginia shore, 13-year-old Stanley Klara (above) of Philadelphia told a story of having been kidnapped. At first it was believed he might be the missing Peter Levine of New Rochelle, N. Y., but later his story was discounted and it was learned he had run away from home.

Seth T. Cole Guest Of Catskill Lodge At Big Banquet

Several Local Masons Attend Affair Wednesday Evening in Armory

Most Excellent Seth T. Cole, grand high priest, Grand Chapter, Royal Arch Masons of the state of New York, was guest of honor last evening at a banquet at the Catskill armory at which several local Masons were in attendance. Among those in attendance at the dinner were several high officials of the order.

Held in the Catskill armory, the banquet was attended by 400 guests. Walter E. Howe, grand chaplain of the grand chapter, opened the program of the evening with prayer and with Edward M. Henderson, high priest of Catskill Chapter, No. 285, acting as toastmaster the speakers were later introduced and a program of entertainment followed.

Speakers Heard

On the speaking program was Henry DeWitt Hamilton, past grand high priest of the U. S. A.; Most Excellent Danston, high priest of Amsterdam Chapter, who presented Mr. Cole with a gavel to be used when he presides over the grand lodge at the next session. Jacob C. Kilack, grand master of Masons of the state of New York, was also a speaker.

Others on the program were Charles B. Weller, grand master, Grand Council, Royal and Select Masters of the state of New York; Charles G. Williams, past grand high priest; William R. Condit, past grand high priest, Royal Arch Masons of the state of New York. It was Mr. Condit who in 1926 made the appointment of Mr. Cole as master of the First Veil of the Grand Chapter. This is the stepping stone which led to Mr. Cole's present high office.

Claude H. Heath of Catskill, past grand representative and general chairman of the arrangements, was also a speaker.

Entertainment Given

The Catskill Glee Club, under the direction of Mr. Heermance, gave several selections and there was also entertainment by a young lad from Albany, who played several selections on his accordion and also by a young lady who gave several songs, dance numbers and also played an accordion duet with the young lad.

Those from Mr. Horeb Chapter, No. 75, R. A. M., who attended the affair were: Paul Jones, assistant grand lecturer of Greene County district; Charles F. Lebert, high priest; Arthur J. Keator, king; Harold F. Davis, P. S.; Fred Richter, past high priest; Edward Fowler, past high priest; and L. S. Lyons.

Another By-Pass

Saugerties Appears to Have Good Chance for Through Traffic Route

Albany, March 10 (Special)—The Senate internal affairs committee late Wednesday afternoon reported out favorably the Desmond-Mallier bill providing for construction of the Saugerties by-pass.

The bill, sponsored in the Senate by Senator Thomas S. Desmond, Republican, of Newburgh, and in the Assembly by Assemblyman Lee B. Mullier, Republican, of Cornwall-on-Hudson, has been placed on the Senate second reading calendar to await advancement and final passage.

The measure, its sponsors declare, has been given definite chance of passage in both houses of the legislature before final adjournment of the present session.

No Fire Duggy

Owego, N. Y., March 10 (AP)—Responding to an alarm, volunteer firemen rushed to the firehouse here only to find their hosecart missing. A hasty search revealed that fellow firemen had taken the truck to rescue a kitten from a tree in a nearby street.

The volunteers were relieved when the fire turned out to be a minor chimney blaze.

All Barbers but 1 Shut Down for Day And Take Action

Mass Meeting Held at Leventhal Hall Wednesday Evening, Final Instructions Given for Today's Holiday

100% Effective

Expected by Evening All Shops Would Sign "Fair Practice" Code

Kingston was experiencing a "barbers' holiday" today and at headquarters at Leventhal building on Wall street at noon it reported that all of the barber shops in the city but one had closed for the day. The "holiday" is being held for the purpose of gaining a unification of prices throughout the city, a uniform minimum wage for the barbers and better working conditions as well as better working hours and sanitary conditions in all shops.

Wednesday evening a mass meeting was held at headquarters in Leventhal Hall on Wall street, at which time final instructions were given as to today's holiday. This morning instead of reporting to their shops the barbers of the city met at the headquarters and their final instructions were given out.

Committees Busy

Later in the morning committees were sent to various shops, which were not inclined to join in the movement. These delegates explained the purpose of the movement and urged the proprietors to join up with the movement.

At noon the movement was reported as "100 per cent effective" and it was stated that victory was in sight. It was expected that by evening all shops would have signed the agreement to do away with present "cut-throat" practices in the trade and sign up with the present movement which is being sponsored by Local No. 301, J. B. I. U. of A.

Uniform Prices

One of the things which it is hoped the "holiday" will bring about is the putting into effect of a uniform price scale for all shops in the city. At present the price ranges from a quarter to forty cents for a hair-cut and shaves are being sold on a similar varied scale. The uniform price scale in all shops is expected to bring better times to the boss barbers and permit the payment of "living" wages in the trade. It is reported that some barbers receive as low as $8 a week for their services.

Posting of $100 Bond

Incorporated in the movement for a uniform price scale and a uniform closing hour is a proposition for the boss barbers to post a bond of $100 to guarantee their adhering to the new agreement which will be adopted.

A second mass meeting was scheduled for 7:30 o'clock this afternoon at headquarters and following that meeting it was expected that final visits would be paid to shops which were still on the uncertain list in an endeavor to sign up all shops by early afternoon and make the "victory" complete.

Not a Strike

The movement is in no way a strike. It was stated that the movement was simply one of taking off the day to explain to every proprietor the need for co-operation and the necessity of entering into the new agreement which has been proposed.

Shops will open at the usual hour Friday morning.

Stored Apples Present Problem

Albany, N. Y., March 10 (AP)—A special committee appointed by the State Agriculture Commissioner Holton V. Noyes, considered today recommendations for disposing of an estimated surplus of 500,000 bushels of apples stored in New York warehouses.

Among the proposals, advanced at a conference of growers and warehouse men summoned here yesterday by Noyes, was a suggestion for a "voluntary" tax of two cents a bushel on stored apples to finance an advertising campaign. Growers and warehouse men would each contribute a cent a bushel under the plan.

Webster J. Birdsall, director of the State Bureau of Markets, was named chairman of the committee, which was asked to formulate a definite plan of action.

Treasury Receipts

Washington, March 10 (AP)—The position of the Treasury on March 8: Receipts $29,176,243.98; expenditures $19,576,829.89; balance $9,599,414.09. Receipts for the fiscal year (since July 1), $2,954,516,401.22; expenditures $2,125,074,346.70; including $1,387,278,811.72 of emergency expenditures; excess of expenditures $1,169,561,945.59; gross debt $37,754,581,431.93, an increase of $6,727,152.14 above the previous day; gold assets $12,768,100,190.08.

Ickes Says Willkie Asked PWA to "Conspire" to Stop Tennessee Power Project

Jersey Champagne for Jersey Oysters

Said Sen. William H. Smith of New Jersey to his colleague, Sen. Theodore E. Green (D-R.I.) of Rhode Island "we of New Jersey have testimonials to prove that if taken internally and in proper proportion, New Jersey oysters and New Jersey champagne will enable a man who has passed three scores and ten to jump over a 10-foot fence before breakfast." Smith even ordered this champagne to prove the point. The two legislators are shown in Washington.

Secretary of Interior Makes Public Letter to Mayor of Memphis in Which Charge Are Stated

To Keep Contract

Assures Overton PWA Would Carry Out Its Contracts for 61 Projects

Washington, March 10 (AP)—Secretary Ickes made public a letter today in which he charged Wendell L. Willkie, president of Commonwealth and Southern, with asking the Public Works Administration to "conspire" with him to hold up a $150,000,000 PWA-Municipal Power Project in the Tennessee Valley.

Ickes' letter, addressed to Mayor Watkins Overton of Memphis, Tenn., was in reply to a telegram from the mayor asking whether PWA would recommend relay in construction of electric distribution systems.

The mayor noted that Willkie, in provisionally accepting an invitation from Director David L. Lilienthal to meet TVA officials in Chattanooga on March 15, said he would cooperate only if the PWA-Municipal Power Project program was brought to a "standstill" in the meantime.

Discussion of Purchases

Lilienthal proposed the Chattanooga conference for a discussion of purchase by TVA and localities of private power systems.

Ickes assured Overton, PWA would carry out its contract for $61,225,514 of loans and $38,412,195 of grants made on 61 projects in 23 states unless the municipalities, themselves, wished to delay their projects.

Otherwise he said PWA money would go forward as arranged.

Ickes said in the letter that Willkie had failed to defeat TVA developments and was now asking the government to act in bad faith with the cities.

Having failed completely to prove his case in the courts, Mr. Willkie now, in effect, asks us to "conspire" with him and to refuse to carry out our obligations to the cities in order that he may negotiate with TVA.

Willkie Had Five Years

"Mr. Willkie has had five years in which to negotiate but he chose to exhaust every legal technicality in his efforts to thwart the government's policy. Now that he has been beaten at every hand, he asks the government to act in bad faith with the cities."

Ickes said if Willkie meant that PWA should not make any new commitments, that condition already had been met inasmuch as the president announced some time ago that there would be no further allotments from the Public Works Administration.

"If, on the other hand," the secretary wrote, "Mr. Willkie is asking the government to fail to live up to the contracts which it has made with the cities in the Tennessee Valley, it would appear that he is not conversant with the policy that PWA has always followed. . . ."

4 Escape Injury In 2-Car Crash

Four people had a fortunate escape from injury Wednesday evening when two cars collided on the West Hurley-Woodstock road at the intersection of Maverick road. An Oldsmobile coupe operated by Mrs. Sylvia Cole, employed at the Governor Clinton Hotel, and occupied by Harold Van Loan of Saugerties was in collision with a Chevrolet coupe operated by Ralph Edwards of Margaretville. In the accident the cars slid across the road and the Chevrolet was damaged badly. Both cars were damaged badly.

Trooper Walter Keefe of Saugerties was notified and made an investigation. Dr. Bassow at Woodstock was called upon to make an examination of the occupants of the Cole car. There was no arrest.

With Edwards on his way to Margaretville was Mrs. A. S. Close, sister of Dr. Harold A. Wilson of this city, who was returning to her home in Margaretville after having been at a local hospital for X-rays.

The Olds of Mrs. Cole was proceeding toward Kingston at the time and the Chevrolet coupe of Edwards was traveling toward Woodstock on the way to Margaretville.

Inspecting Local Office

Hugh F. McKenna, regional representative of region II, is visiting the new quarters of the Social Security Board in the Federal Building here. It was announced today by John Forman, McKenna's assistant, that McKenna is making periodic inspection of the 22 field offices of the Social Security Board in New York State.

Woodstock Insurance Records Inadequate

State Examiner Schwartz Says Mutual Fire Company's Books Should be Audited Annually by One Not Connected With Firm

Albany, March 10 (Special)—A total of nine recommendations, including a suggestion urging "that all books should be audited annually by an auditor not connected with the company," is embodied in the latest report of examination of the books of the Woodstock Mutual Fire Insurance Co., of Woodstock, by an examiner on the staff of the State Insurance Department.

Newspaper Vendor Offers Prayers on Cardozo Recovery

New York, March 10 (AP)—Mrs. Alice Williams, newspaper vendor, prayed today, as she does every day, for the recovery of Associate Justice Benjamin N. Cardozo of the Supreme Court, who has been seriously ill for weeks past.

"I pray to God he gets better," she said. "I pray day and night for him."

The story of the Irish widow's devotion was disclosed when the city bureau of Newsday renewed her newspaper permit.

Mrs. Williams said she had served as nurse for the justice's sister, Mrs. Nelly Cardozo. Then, shortly after Mrs. Cardozo died, in November, 1929, Mrs. Williams developed arthritis. For two years, the justice's daughter gave her $15 a month to help with the hospital bills.

When she was sufficiently recovered, the justice gave her $100 to buy a newstand. It was made of wood. Mrs. Williams had to stand out on the sidewalk. Arthritis crippled her again. She had to employ an assistant for her hospital days. Justice Cardozo continued financial help.

"And he's the only person from whom I ever took any help," said Mrs. Williams.

Despite doctor bills, Mrs. Williams saved enough money to build the new stand. She can sit inside it, near a heater. If only her daughter, Helen, 24 years old, did not have tuberculosis and Justice Cardozo were not ill, she would be a happy woman.

"But the luck of the Irish," she said, "can't always be good."

Records Unsatisfactory

"In your examiner's opinion," the report continues, "the records of the company are totally unsatisfactory and inadequate for an advanced premium company. It is recommended that the company open a set of double entry books."

"In 1933 under a reorganization plan of the National Ulster County Bank of Kingston, the report continues, 'the records of the company are totally unsatisfactory and inadequate for an advanced premium company. It is recommended that the company open a set of double entry books.'

"The trouble with politics," he said, "is that the politician's code prevents him from ever admitting that he is wrong. Business men want to find out their mistakes as fast as possible and correct them. But a politician seems to feel that he must keep up the pretense of infallibility or all is lost."

The New Yorker signed "for the day when the people will send a Republican majority down here."

"Then," he exclaimed, "we will have a grand cleanup and sweep the statute books clear."

Barton announced 10 weeks ago he was offering the repeal bills because of his campaign pledge to help cure America of "legislativity."

Barton's targets, which for the most part were monetary bills passed at the outset of the Roosevelt administration, also have included the Guffey coal control act and the 1938 farm bill.

"The trouble with politics," he said, "is that the politician's code prevents him from ever admitting that he is wrong. Business men want to find out their mistakes as fast as possible and correct them. But a politician seems to feel that he must keep up the pretense of infallibility or all is lost."

Whitney Takes Blame for Failure

New York, March 10 (AP)—Wall Street's ears were still ringing today with echoes of the bombshell statement of Richard Whitney, five times president of the New York Stock Exchange, in which he admitted certain "wrong acts" and took sole responsibility for one of the most startling failures in Wall Street's history.

Brokers and bankers appeared agreed the collapse of Richard Whitney & Co., was of minor importance financially, but in its interpretation of personalities, and its unexpectedness, one of the most dramatic in the annals of the street.

Eagerly awaited was the role which John W. Hanes, once rival of Whitney for the presidency of the stock exchange—both eventually withdrew in favor of the incumbent, Charles R. Gay—would play in investigating the failure.

Hanes is now a member of the securities and exchange commission and was reported likely to have a large hand in that body's probe of the situation. The commission was known to be following closely the hearing now being held by the New York state attorney general's office.

The attorney general promised yesterday to continue active pursuit of his inquiries following Whitney's statement and earlier testimony by Robert J. Rosenthal, cashier of the Whitney firm, in which he revealed that securities owned "free and clear" by certain of the firm's customers had been delivered to Whitney without the customers being notified.

Russian Court Recesses Today

Moscow, March 10 (AP).—The court recessed today while Prosecutor Andrei Y. Vishinsky wrote his speech summing up conspiracy and murder charges against 21 defendants in Moscow's greatest treason trial as a basis for a demand for their deaths by shooting.

He expected to be ready with his outline by Friday noon. Vishinsky's demand for "the highest form of Socialist punishment"—a shot in the back of the head—was expected to last an entire day.

Then would be handed to the court the fate of the defendants, many of them once the chief figures in Soviet Russia, now all charged with being enemies of Joseph Stalin, secretary of the central committee of the Communist party and key figure of the government.

Evidence was concluded yesterday at a closed session at which, a communique indicated, a sex motive was injected into the trial. The communique said Genrikh Yagoda, formerly head of the NKVD (secret police), admitted ordering homicidal medical treatment for Maxim Pechkoff, son of Maxim Gorky, the writer, for "personal aims".

Although the announcement did not refer to Yagoda's love interest in Pechkoff's actress wife, it was interpreted as referring to that.

Yagoda, the man who wanted to be a "Russian Hitler", previously had admitted "full guilt" in ordering medical treatment deliberately designed to cause the deaths of three other men, Gorky, V. V. Kutsishvili, former chief of the five-year plan, and Vyacheslav Menzhinsky, Yagoda's predecessor as police head.

Anthraxite, Bituminous

Popular Kinds of Coal

Coal generally is divided into two classes—anthracite, or hard, and bituminous, or soft. The main differences, states a writer in the Chicago Tribune, are in the amount of carbon and volatile matter each contains. The greater the amount of carbon the slower the coal burns; the greater the amount of volatile matter the faster it burns.

Anthraxite coal was produced by nature in the eastern part of this country under greater pressure and heat than the bituminous coals found farther west. Pocahontas coal, one of the most widely used, is rated as a semi-bituminous coal.

The following analysis of representative grades of the various types are given by an authority:

Anthraxite: moisture, 1.50 per cent; ash, 10.46 per cent; volatile matter, 3.63 per cent; carbon, 84.41 per cent; British thermal units (b. t. u.'s), 13,291 per pound. In addition, there is 0.56 per cent sulphur among the constituents.

Pocahontas: moisture, 1.25 per cent; ash, 5.21 per cent; volatile matter, 19.25 per cent; carbon, 74.29 per cent; (b. t. u.'s), 15,140 per pound; sulphur, 0.75 per cent.

High grade southern Illinois soft coal: moisture, 7.14 per cent; ash, 7.83 per cent; volatile matter, 32.85 per cent; carbon, 52.38 per cent; (b. t. u.'s), 13,271 per pound; sulphur, 0.95 per cent.

Rhea, of Ostrich Family,

Can Run 47 Miles an Hour

The rhea, a South American ostrich, which attains a weight of 50 pounds and can run up to 47 miles an hour, leads a polygamous life on the plains, according to a Field Museum authority.

Frequently there will be one male and several females in a colony. They will have a common nest in which the hens lay from 20 to 45 eggs.

Then these big matrons take turns sitting on the eggs, giving each other a chance to range for food and exercise themselves.

While the birds are not exceedingly rare, very few complete collections are to be found in museums of the world. The eggs average 1½ pounds each. The birds and eggs are unfit for human consumption.

The hoatzin is a marsh bird with habits similar to the English ringneck pheasant, except that it nests in trees.

The young of this bird, known locally as the "stinking Hannah," have two-jointed fingers or claws formed on their wing tips. These fall off after maturity. But when the young, still unable to fly, are frightened they will dive 20 feet out of their nests, swim about for a few minutes, then climb a tree, and resume their places in the nest.

We Americans are better at dishing out advice than distributing goods.

Sheep-raising is on the increase in North Carolina.

HOME BUREAU

Woodstock

Woodstock, March 10 — The Woodstock Unit of the Ulster County Home Bureau has just spent two busy weeks. On Wednesday, March 2, a silver tea and lesson on grooming was given at the home of Mrs. G. W. Bassow. The ladies supplied their own toilet articles and had a thorough lesson in facial, muscle toning and make up. Refreshments followed the meeting, and were supplied by Mrs. G. C. Layman, Mrs. Besse Cohn, Mrs. Ivan Summers and Mrs. Augusta Viehmann. At the same meeting officers were elected for the coming year as follows: Mrs. G. C. Layman, chairman; Mrs. Augusta Viehmann, vice chairman; Mrs. Besse Cohn, treasurer; Miss Florence Webster, treasurer.

On Friday, March 4, the first living room conference was held under the direction of the housing leader, Mrs. Summers. The living room in the home of Mrs. Elizabeth Clough was rearranged and each move discussed by the members.

On Monday, March 7, another in the series of discussions, "About Ourselves," was held in the home of Mrs. Layman. The discussion proved a lively one and members felt they had spent a profitable and enjoyable afternoon.

Other living room conferences are planned for today and the following Thursday at the homes of Mrs. Victor Lasher and Mrs. Frank Bradley.

On Friday a number of Woodstock members will attend the Home Bureau in Kingston. A number of Woodstock women will act as models.

On Monday, March 14, the first garden meeting will be held at the home of the garden leader, Miss Anita Smith, a sure sign that spring is on its way. This intensified schedule has met with enthusiastic response from its members and has definitely proved the popularity of the Home Bureau in Woodstock. This season will soon be brought to a close, with the completion of present projects and the undertaking of gardening and lessons in slip cover making. At future meetings plans will be made for the program for next season.

Kingston Unit

Kingston Home Bureau Unit met on Tuesday afternoon, March 8, at the Home Bureau rooms with Mrs. Margaret Bertrand, chairman, presiding. A short business session was held after which the meeting was turned over to Mrs. Mary Hutton, head of the group in "Family Life."

Mrs. Lotta Hollister very interestingly presented the lesson of the day based on "Discovering the Genius Within You," the book now being studied by the Unit, and led in the animated discussion which followed. The following ladies were present: Mrs.

Margaret Bertrand, Mrs. George Quinette, Mrs. F. W. Gleisner, Mrs. J. W. Harris, Mrs. George Wickling, Mrs. Edward J. Kelley, Mrs. A. W. Hollister, Mrs. A. E. Buddenhagen, Mrs. C. Seligman, Mrs. Clyde Hutton, Mrs. George Spade, Mrs. Ellen Tillson, Mrs. A. L. Berwin, Mrs. Stanley Winne and Mrs. E. T. Pratt.

Shuttis Writes of Big California Flood; He Cites Many Calamities

Former Freeman Telegraph Operator Has Thrilling Experiences Working for Railroad in "Sunny" California

Ed Shuttis, a former telegraph operator on The Freeman, and who is now working on a railroad out in sunny California, has had various experiences since he left Kingston for the west. "I'm always around where there are calamities," he writes his mother, Mrs. George B. Shuttis, of East Chester street, "Witness the Naco affair when I was working in an iron cage. Then the San Francisco earthquake and now the flood."

Yes Ed has just passed through the big flood out in California, about which newspaper readers have been reading the past several days. His mother has just received an interesting letter from her son from which excerpts are given below:

"I thought you might like to hear about the flood. No doubt all the eastern papers have been full of it. Well, it happened on March 2. The manager laid off that day to go to the races at Santa Anita. The weather was misty, but the day before had been clear. He left in his car with his wife and boy, about 10 years old. I take his place when he lays off. About 10 o'clock in the morning I began to have wire trouble on our Fresno circuit, then on Los Angeles circuit, then all of them began to ring me in for wire tests and to line up repeaters. That is the kind of work I did in the telephone company. Well, I couldn't let them go on satisfactorily and finally they all went out. So much for the Morse circuits. Just then my three telephone circuits, one to Los Angeles, one to Fresno and one to Needles, were no good. I'm in Needles for the Arizona division, and in San Bernardino for the Los Angeles division. But this is one time the trains ran without dispatchers. They came in from the last as far as Barstow and here we stopped them.

Road Washed Out.

"We had learned that the road was washed out down in Cajon Pass in two or three places for a starter. We have double track through the pass, but the big cuts through which the road ran, gave way and piled 30 or 40 feet of dirt across them. A little later the water began to come down from the mountains, for it was raining hard in the mountains and it soon rained like the dickens below.

"Johnny Horan, a conductor on a freight run, called up on the message phone just before it went bad and reported the slide. He said it looked like the road bed was going to give away under his train. He had 70 cars of fruit for the east. Well that is the last we heard from Mr. Horan and his lost train.

"This is the fifth and I haven't found out what happened to Horan and his train yet. It probably went under because a line man came back and told us the roads were washed out in five or six places. Well, there won't be any trains from Los Angeles for a long time."

He further wrote that the Union Pacific was also hit hard, and that it was the worst storm in 24 years. He wrote that there had been no mail from the coast and he had not heard from his wife but held no fears for their house is solid and it is high and the drainage is good. Water can't bother them any and they are without doubt perfectly safe, he wrote.

He said that the Mojave river goes underground at Barstow, but that was before the flood. "Now it is on the surface and in some places a mile wide. There is a section of Barstow known as the river bed. A settlement is built along the banks of the dry river. That settlement has been wiped out. When the flood came, it came in a wall of water that just wiped the houses down the stream. All people were warned to get out but some, thinking they were safe, would not leave. They don't need a house any longer."

He writes that the flood inundated him of the old earthquake of a few years ago. "Everything in confusion. Many lives lost here and considerable more below Cajon Pass. Today by going practically all over the desert, 15 or 20 trucks came through to Barstow. The Santa Fe Railroad was feeding all passengers free at the hotel during their forced stay and they were sleeping in the Pullmans. However, with the arrival of the Greyhound and Santa Fe Trails busses and perhaps others, the passengers were loaded in and sent on their way to Los Angeles.

Now the passengers are arriving from Los Angeles by busses operated by the railroad. We are running them back as soon as possible and the congestion of trains in the yard is breaking up a bit. Just how long this transfer from bus to train in both directions will continue is problematical.

OFFICE CAT
By Junius

The business man who trusts to luck has the same chance for success that a dock-tailed horse has to switch flies from his nose.

George was making a call on his girl friend and at last came the time to go. Then followed a long delay in the hall. Father came to the top of the stairs asked:

Father—Anna, what is George doing down there?

Daughter—He is saying 'Good Night, Daddy Dear.'

Father—Well, let me say it. Good Night, George!

It is always interesting to know what the other person thinks particularly if he is thinking about you.

Mrs. Morton—Jim! Come here a minute—I want to ask you something. Did you ever see such a horrible party? What I wanted to ask you was, who is that total loss with the floppy ears over there? I noticed him staring at me awhile ago, when you were talking to him.

Jim—Oh, that Millard Necks. He was asking me about you.

Mrs. Morton—I was afraid of that! Listen, if you promised him you would introduce him to me, I'll slap your ears off.

Jim—Put your mind at rest, Grace. I didn't.

Mrs. Morton—Well, thank heavens. A cowlick like his and wristbones like a pair of door-knobs are just a little bit too much for little Grace! I'll bet his conversation is a treat, too—especially coming through that overhanging ledge of buckteeth. I don't know why it is I always seem to have a fatal attraction for Nature's masculine mistakes! Tell me—just to satisfy a morbid curiosity—what did he ask you about me?

Jim—He asked: 'Who is that dame with the long nose?'

This was in charge of the service and hospital committee, consisting of Mrs. Howard Simpson, Miss Irene Sicker, Mrs. Preston Coy, Mrs. Ethel Dinger, Mrs. Pauline Aultmoody and Miss Hilda Rhodes. The social program was in charge of Miss Katherine Schepmoes, worthy lecturer, and consisted of: Song, "Stay on the Farm," Grange.

Reading, "Cooperate," Miss Elizabeth Bernard.

Reading, "The Farm Bureau Family," Mrs. Mary K. Eckert.

Debate, "Should we or should we not plant more McIntosh apple trees," Alfred Zimmermann and Fred Eckert.

Reading, "Farm Life," Miss Dorothy Rhodes.

Reading, "Don't Leave the Farm," Miss Agnes Sharp.

In the absence of the Ulster County Farm Bureau Agent, Albert Kurdt, who could not attend, Cyrus Small, assistant agent, was present and gave a delightful talk. At the close of the interesting educational program, refreshments were served by Mr. and Mrs. Howard Simpson, Mr. and Mrs. E. School Activities

At Kerhonkson

The new writing books ordered by the Board of Education have arrived and the elementary teachers have reorganized their classes so that this subject may be included. This action by the board has filled a need which long has been apparent.

Pupils are admitted to the school building at 8:45 a. m., and at 12:50 p. m. When it is cold or stormy, pupils have immediate access to their classrooms. Parents of pupils who do not come on the bus would help the school considerably if they would plan to have their children arrive after 8:15 a. m. and 12:50 p. m.

The number of pupils in the Kerhonkson Union School is rapidly increasing with the result that there are two and one-half times as many enrolled as the school was intended for. This has affected especially the high school where there are but five classrooms available for 150 pupils and 30 classes during the school day. At the present time even the stage has been converted into a classroom and one class is being conducted in the library. It is obvious that with the expected increase for next year, the high school will present a very serious problem. One solution would be to refuse admittance to some pupils in outside districts. Since this is not a centralized district, such procedure would be permissible.

New Type Diploma

The Board of Education is considering the purchase of a new type of diploma. These will probably include a complete record of the pupil's achievement and will be enclosed in a leather case.

It has been decided to re-charter the Kerhonkson Union School Boy Scout Troop for another year. At the present time there are 24 boys who are receiving the benefits of scouting.

At the last meeting of the P.T.A. it was decided to award four prizes in the Commencement exercises in June. A prize of $2.50 each will go to the boy and girl having the highest Regents average in the eighth grade. The boy and girl in the Senior Class who receive the highest social attitudes ratings during their high school careers will each receive $5 according to Mrs. Fritz Foord, president of the association. Mrs. Foord has also decided to donate a girl's fidelity prize to the outstanding girl in the Senior Class.

Circus This Year

Plans are under way to make this year's circus an even greater attraction than last year's. It is planned to conduct the entire show in a ring in the middle of the floor of the high school auditorium, thus seats will also be available on the high school auditorium stage. Last year even seats in the house were sold out before the doors were opened; the Circus Committee hopes that the added seats will take care of the entire audience. This year's attraction will not be a repetition of last year's show, but will consist of many new acts and side shows. The circus will be conducted one night only, on Friday, April 1, at 7:30 in the high school.

Entertainment By Presbyterian Group

The Ladies' Missionary Society of the Roundout Presbyterian Church was host last evening to the missionary societies of neighboring churches and the Highland Literary Society. The program included a musical program and a one act play.

The musical program opened with the group singing two of Stephen Foster's songs, "My Old Kentucky Home" and "Swanee River." Old Black Joe" was sung as a duet by Miss Dorothy Groves and Mrs. Warren Ingalsbee. Miss Groves then sang a solo, "Carry Me Back to Old Virginia," and Mrs. Ingalsbee and Miss Groves closed the program with another duet, "Deep River." Mrs. Smith, organist of the church, who arranged the program, accompanied all the selections.

"On Vengeance Height," the one-act southern tragedy, was then presented. The difficult character study of the proud, blind, but unrepentant mountain woman, Cherridah Gormley, was portrayed by Mrs. Charles Gormley. The part of the neighbor girl, Hope Tawender, was played by Mrs. Jack Monroe, Letta Carmalt, head of his clan and leader in the mountain feud between the Gormleys and Carmalts, was played by Miss Ethel Hull, and the role of Clay, who returned to visit his old grandmother and remained to kill the last of the Carmalts, was taken by Miss Agnes Scott Smith.

During the social hour which followed, Mrs. Louis Reeves and Mrs. William Metcalfe presided at the tea table. The committee

Mrs. Lloyd LeFever Chosen New Head of Musical Society

Election of officers for the coming year were made Wednesday evening at a meeting of the Musical Society at the home of Mrs. William MacGregor Mills of Franklin street, with the following slate presented by the nominating committee: Mrs. Lloyd LeFever president, to succeed Miss Eva Clinton; Mrs. Mortimer B. Downer vice-president to succeed Mrs. Lloyd R. LeFever; Mrs. Walter T. Tremper secretary, to succeed Mrs. Downer; and Mrs. Raymond Ringwald treasurer to succeed Miss Caroline Port.

On the nominating committee were Miss Helen Turner, Mrs. Lester Decker and Miss Lucinda Merritt. Written suggestions for the 1937-1938 program of the club also were made by the members at the meeting.

The evening's program was a continuation of the study of "American Music" started at the February meeting. The program was arranged by Mrs. Henry Millonig, Jr., and opened with the group singing "The Beaming Eyes" by MacDowell and "Deep River," led by Mrs. Raymond Ringwald with Mrs. Millonig at the piano.

This was followed with a piano solo by Mrs. Lester Decker, "A New Hiding Place" by Burleigh from his "Suite From the Southland," "At Dawning" by Cadman sung by Mrs. Mortimer B. Downer, accompanied by Mrs. William Eltinge with the violin obligato played by Miss Eva Clinton. "In My Neighbor's Garden" by Nevin played by Mrs. Walter T. Tremper, "Gondolier" by Nevin played by Miss Jane Mauterstock, and "Iris" by Wolf, sung by Miss Caroline Port accompanied by Miss Clinton.

In between the first and second groups on the program Miss Margaret Howe gave a short talk on "Symprovision," the new method of writing music by eliminating sharps and flats, whereby the music is printed in black and red, black notes to be played as written and red notes to be flatted. Illustrations of the printed music were passed among the members. The second group opened with a vocal solo, "Don't Care" by John Alden Carpenter sung by Mrs. Clarence Wolfenstein accompanied by Mrs. Eltinge.

Mrs. John L. MacKinnon played MacDowell's "Nocturne" and Mrs. Lloyd LeFever played "Caravan" from the Egyptian Suite of Branford Crisp. The program closed with a piano solo by Miss Turner, "Land of Pale Blue Flowers" by Lucille Crews, and three vocal selections by Miss Eva Clinton, accompanied by Mrs. Eltinge, "By a Lonely Forest Pathway" by Griffiths, "Ah, Love But a Day" by Mrs. Beach and "Ecstasy" by Hummel.

Mrs. Millonig then explained the "Grand Canyon Suite" by Ferde Groffe which was played on the victrola during the serving of refreshments. Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Josephine Mortel Dederick, Miss Margaret Howe and Mrs. Raymond Ringwald.

Business Girls Hear of Russia

The Rev. J. Thoburn Legg was the speaker Wednesday evening at the meeting of the Business Girls' Club of the Y. W. C. A. The Rev. Mr. Legg spoke on "Russia," another in the series of talks on foreign countries that the members are hearing this year. He said that conditions are so chaotic in Russia that it is possible to hear almost anything concerning the country. As a background for his opinions he gave an historical resume bringing conditions up to the present.

The government is supposed to be communist but it is really a dictatorship under Stalin. Tense characterizes most of the country and the form of government is far from the general idea of it held by the Russian people. The Rev. Mr. Legg drew from his opinions inferences that he felt should be taken to heart by the American people, one of which was that they should cease loose thinking and help in the operation of the democratic processes, especially freedom of speech, freedom of thought, and freedom of the press. These facts are essential to democracy, he said, and now really are endangered. The Business Girls are participating in the membership campaign and will omit the regular club supper next week.

Want to Know Why You're Constipated?
Would you give a million to shake out that dull, dopey, played-out feeling that often comes with common constipation? Then stop a minute and think.
What have you had to eat this week? Just meat, bread, eggs, potatoes? Probably the reason you're constipated is you don't get enough "bulk." And "bulk" doesn't mean how much you eat. It means a kind of food that isn't entirely digested, but leaves a soft, bulky mass in the intestines which helps a bowel movement.
What to do? Eat some Kellogg's All-Brans for breakfast every day. This crunchy, toasted cereal is not only rich in "bulk"—it also contains both the intestinal tonic vitamins B<sub>1</sub> and iron.
Eat All-Brans every day and drink plenty of water. See if you don't get off your back and on your feet. Kellogg's All-Brans is sold by every grocer.

Arguments For and Against By-Pass

no objection to light truck traffic, but did object to the heavy truck traffic and said he believed it would be utterly unfair if the ordinance was rescinded so that an oil company would not lose the sale of a few gallons of gas or an eating place the loss of the sale of a few sandwiches.

Industrial Home.
Mr. Watts submitted a communication from the Industrial Home in which the request was made that the ordinance be continued in force.

Sold by Proxy.
L. J. Spangenberg of East Chester street believed that the ordinance should be continued in force. "Why should we again be forced to stay awake nights by the noise and soft gas and sandwiches by proxy?" he asked.

Walls Damaged.
Mr. R. Flick, the electrician, said that he could show the committee and others the cracks in the walls of his house caused by heavy traffic passing over East Chester street. (loud laughter from the opposition greeted this statement). Mr. Flick urged that the ordinance be continued in force.

No Laughter Said Schantz.
George Schantz of East Chester street said it was no laughing matter as some of those present seemed to think, but if they had to endure the services of a painter to repair the damage done to the houses they would not laugh so freely.

Former Alderman John Molyneux of East Chester street said he was strongly opposed to the rescinding of the ordinance.

William J. Duffy and Charles Entrott endorsed the remarks made by previous speakers.

Mr. Watts said that there were others in the group he could call on to speak, but he did not believe it necessary.

Fowler Led Attack.
Alderman Garon said that those who desired to speak in opposition to the ordinance would now be given the opportunity and Attorney N. J. Jansen Fowler, attorney for Mr. Van Wazer, led the attack on the ordinance. He said he did not doubt the word of those who told of how their repose was interrupted by heavy truck traffic, but he called attention to the petitions that had been filed containing 161 signatures asking that the ordinance be rescinded. Since then he had filed another petition from 20 residents of Albany avenue.

Mr. Fowler said that the Foxhall avenue residents had just as much trouble with cracked walls due to heavy traffic as those on East Chester street. He said that the by-pass was built expressly for carrying this heavy traffic.

Agreement Not Found.
He said he had heard that an agreement had been made that when the by-pass was constructed it was to be for one-way traffic only, but he had searched and been unable to find any such agreement. He called attention to the fact that the heavy trucks were operated by large concerns who wanted their drivers to stop at one place. This place was the By-pass Diner where the drivers would find instructions and money waiting for them.

If only one-way traffic was allowed these truck companies would undoubtedly route traffic elsewhere. His client was saddled with a five year lease.

"You must also consider the traveling public" said Mr. Fowler. "East Chester street is the quickest and shortest route through the city." He said that there were also residents on East Chester street who owned trucks and if they were out nights they were forced to go away from their way in order to reach home without violating the ordinance. Mr. Fowler said that milk trucks and bakery trucks were not required to go out as far as Flatbush avenue if they had to deliver milk before 8 o'clock in the morning.

There was also the element of safety to be considered, said Attorney Fowler, and called attention to the fact that there was a bad railroad crossing on Foxhall avenue. The by-pass was built to eliminate crossing grade crossings and it was almost crime, he said, to use a street where there was a dangerous crossing.

He said that the ordinance was unreasonable because it favored the few against the many. It was class discrimination, he said.

Suggests an Idea.
Attorney Fowler said that most of the noise complained of was from shifting gears and along that line he said he had a suggestion to offer for what it was worth. His suggestion was that the present traffic light at Hasbrouck avenue and East Chester street be removed and replaced with a red light that flickered constantly. If that was done there would be few truck drivers who would be forced to shift gears and much of the noise complained of would be eliminated.

Bennett Favored Change.
Clifford T. Bennett of Foxhall avenue, said that there was quite a representation of Foxhall avenue residents present at the hearing who were opposed to the ordinance. He said he had lived on Foxhall avenue for 20 years or more.

"I am surprised" he said "that there are so many sensitive sleepers for we on Foxhall avenue have been subjected to the noise of traffic for many years."

He said he understood that the by-pass was constructed for the purpose of routing traffic through the city and that being so those who objected should expect to endure some of the noise.

As far as cracks in the walls of houses were concerned, he said he would like to invite those interested to visit his house and see what damage had been done by constant traffic through Foxhall avenue.

"Does Not Lose Sleep"
William E. Dederick of Foxhall avenue speaking in opposition to the ordinance said "As far as Mr. Watts is concerned he spends the greater part of the year at his camp. He has not lost much sleep." He said that Foxhall avenue residents for 25 years had been subjected to heavy traffic both north and south.

His Car Damaged.
John Weber of Foxhall avenue called attention to the fact that Foxhall avenue was a narrow street. He said that when a car was parked at the curb it was hard for heavy trucks to pass. He said that several times while his car was parked in front of the house it had been struck and damaged by trucks, and he believed that the truck drivers did not realize that their trucks had struck his car.

Mr. Weber said that the by-pass was built to carry heavy traffic as it was a concrete road, and that Foxhall avenue had not been constructed to carry heavy traffic.

Ordered to Keep Off.
Charles Raible, who operates the gas station adjoining the By-pass Diner said that bakery and milk trucks had been notified by the police not to use East Chester street in a northerly direction during the restricted hours.

Eleanor Eberth of Foxhall avenue said that as far as the noise caused by shifting gears was concerned that the residents of Foxhall avenue suffered also. She said that it was known that the heaviest truck travel was at night when the roads were not so heavily traveled.

Attorney Daniel Hoffman of Albany avenue said that while he had full sympathy for the sleepers it should not be forgotten that what was the city had been suffering from for some time. He said that on the northerly end of Albany avenue there were no sidewalks on either side of the street and residents living there had to use the road. This, he said, was a dangerous practice.

Mr. Kelley and Mr. Elmendorf of Foxhall avenue endorsed what other speakers had said and urged that the ordinance be rescinded.

No Trouble to Sleep.
Mr. Van Ethen of Foxhall avenue said that he worked hard all day and when he got home nights he was tired and he had no trouble in sleeping.

Demanded Apology.
Mr. Raible again obtained the floor and spoke stating that it the fumes from trucks were a menace to health there was as much danger from a light truck as from a heavy truck.

"You crazy fool," interrupted a woman seated in the audience. "I demand a public apology for that remark" said Mr. Raible addressing Alderman Garon. He said that he did not think he should be subjected to such remarks at a public hearing.

Alderman Garon rapped for order and asked if there were anyone else who desired to be heard in opposition. "If not" he said "an opportunity is now given for rebuttal with one speaker from each side."

Mr. Watts Responds.
Mr. Watts took the floor in rebuttal to what had been said in opposition to the ordinance. He said that his group had tried to keep from indulging in any personalities. He said that the remarks of the Foxhall avenue residents as to the noise had borne out the contention of the East Chester street group that there was noise from heavy traffic.

Get Own Ordinance.
Mr. Watts said there was nothing in the ordinance that stated that truck travel should be routed out Foxhall avenue. He said that East Chester street residents had complained of the noise and had gotten an ordinance that gave them same protection. His advice to the Foxhall avenue residents, he said, was to get an ordinance of their own.

East Chester street, he said was but 20 feet wide and had been built for one-way traffic. He said that some one had raised the question of taxes. He would simply call attention to the fact that the Diner and gas station had been assessed for $1,000 on which a tax of some $38 had been paid, while the properties in the noise zone had been assessed for $29,000 on which over $1,400 in taxes had been paid. He said he agreed that the oil company was one of the largest taxpayers in the city.

Mr. Fowler Answers.
Attorney Fowler said that some of those present at the hearing who opposed the ordinance had asked him to speak in rebuttal. He called attention to the fact that Albany avenue not only got the 9-W traffic but also traffic from other routes. Mr. Watts, he said, had suggested that Foxhall avenue residents get an ordinance of their own, but he believed that if any one deserved such an ordinance it was the residents of Wurts street.

One point he said he had overlooked in his opening arguments and that was how the noise of traffic through Foxhall avenue had disturbed the patients in the Kingston Hospital. He said he had talked recently with one patient in the hospital who had told him that he was kept awake by the noise of shifting gears.

Mr. Fowler based his arguments for the rescinding of the ordinance on the noise of traffic through Foxhall avenue disturbing the hospital patients; the element of public safety; the question of the many cross streets intersecting Foxhall avenue, and the dangerous condition on Albany avenue where there were no sidewalks and people were forced to use the road.

Hearing is Closed.
Alderman Garon closed the public hearing with the announcement that the traffic control committee would withhold decision at this time and would later submit their findings to the Common Council which would undoubtedly hold a special meeting to consider the report of the committee and act upon it.

Sir Christopher Wren was the most eminent English architect of the 17th century.

The bank advised your examiner that there are due at this time to the Woodstock Mutual Fire Insurance Association three payments on this certificate amounting to a total of $218.60. The company was instructed to collect this amount."

Syphilis Measure Goes to Lehman

Albany, N. Y., March 10 (AP)—New York's Senate passed and sent to Governor Lehman today a bill requiring prospective mothers to undergo serological blood test for syphilis.

If approved, the measure will mark the first in the state specifically designed to stamp out the disease.

The vote was 34 to one, Senator Rhoda Fox Graves, St. Lawrence county Republican, casting the only negative vote.

The measure would require a subsequent birth certificate to show whether the serological examination was made and if not, the reason for the failure. The certificate, however, would not reveal findings of the test.

O'Meara's Auto Crashed Gates

Howard P. O'Meara of Troy, driving a Plymouth coupe up Broadway at 2:50 o'clock this morning, crashed through the gates on the Broadway crossing, wrecking both gates on the right hand side of the street, and damaging the auto. In reporting the accident to the police department Mr. O'Meara said he did not see the gates until he struck them. Mr. O'Meara is employed at 726 Broadway.

Washington, March 10 (AP)—The comptroller of the currency issued a call today for the condition of all national banks at the close of business Monday, March 7.

The Federal Reserve Board issued a similar call to its member state banks the call thus applied to 8,813 banks—6,744 national and 2,074 state banks.

The origin of the fire is not known.

Brigham Yard Started Today

The Brigham Bros. brickyard at East Kingston, which closed down October 27, resumed operations this morning with a full force of men at work.

The stock of brick on hand is reported to be fairly well down although business, as in other lines, has been very dull all winter. Continuance of operations will depend, of course, upon the condition of the market and whether or not there is a pick-up in the building industry with consequent demand for brick.

The Brigham Bros. yard employs around 75 hands.

U. S. CLAIMS TWO TINY ISLANDS

PEACE, NOT WAR, spurred United States to claim tiny Enderbury island (top view) and Canton island (lower) in the central Pacific southwest of Hawaii, according to Stephen T. Early, President's secretary. The islands, wanted for air routes, are in an almost direct line between U. S. and Australia. To clinch U. S. sovereignty over the islands, American colonists are landing there. Above tent colony was set up in 1937 to permit observation of a solar eclipse.

Parent-Teacher Association

School Number 8

The regular meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association was held at the school Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. A. Noble Graham, the guest speaker at the meeting, spoke on "Religion in Our School." She brought forth the mighty influence of money, power, social service and religion upon the entire human race, but especially upon the plastic youth of today. Self-control and social obligations of all man kind must be demanded very early from the child if adult life is to be free from crime and strife.

The speaker stressed the absolute need for religious training. The whole trend of Mrs. Graham's address was a plea for a peaceful and happy development of the generation to come.

The attendance banners were won by the pupils from Miss Gerber's and Miss Fitzgerald's rooms.

A nominating committee was selected, consisting of Mrs. Howard McGrath as chairman, and Mrs. Rich and Miss Nash.

Broadway

"Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs." Minus a single big name star yet hailed by critics everywhere as the outstanding motion picture triumph of a decade, Walt Disney's first full length film comes to the Broadway as a don't miss attraction of the first magnitude. The famous fairy story takes on color, comedy, beauty, terror and reality during its rendition and it will captivate and enthrall all who see it. Here is a new phase of the motion picture art, a whole new and entertaining picture that possesses interest, enjoyment and humor. Staged and presented with rare skill and genius, "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs" brings its audience a cinema masterpiece from the realm of fantasy and presents it in a manner so entertaining that motion picture patrons will want to see it enacted again and again.

Kingston: "She Loved a Fireman" and "Expensive Husbands." Dick Nolan forsakes the western type of film fare for the fire fighting brigade in this story of a hook and ladder company who fight fires and his girl friend at one and the same time. "Expensive Husbands" is the associate feature with Beverly Roberts starred.

Orpheum: "Perfect Specimen." The humorous and different story of a cloistered young man of wealth who is brought up to be perfection in a physical and mental sense because he isn't contaminated by other human beings and who goes completely on the loose when a strange girl happens into his guarded estate forms the excitement and laughter for this show with Errol Flynn and Joan Blondell starred and ably supported by Edward Everett Horton and May Robson.

Tomorrow
Broadway: Same.
Kingston: Same.

Orpheum: "Portia on Trial" and "Ranger Steps In." Faith Baldwin's exciting story becomes first rate drama at the Orpheum in this study of a woman in trouble that stars Walter Abel and Frieda Inescort. "Ranger Steps In" is the associate feature, a western gun and target thriller with Bob Allen shooting it out on the side of the law and order with love his just reward.

Albany, March 10.—The sharp downward movement in employment and payrolls in New York state factories which began last October was checked in February, according to a statement issued today by the industrial commissioner, Elmer P. Andrews. The reductions in the metal and machinery group were less severe and substantial seasonal gains were made in clothing and millinery factories. In addition, net gains, reflecting fairly general advancement in employment, were reported by the textile and food and tobacco groups as a whole and also by the pearl, horn and bone, paper box and tube and shoe industries. According to preliminary tabulations covering reports from 1,907 representative factories throughout the state which report each month to the New York state department of labor, employment showed very little net change from January.
